

EDUCATION	Princeton University	Princeton, NJ
	Ph.D. Candidate, Department of Politics	2020–2027 (expected)
	• Primary Fields: Comparative Politics, International Relations • Dissertation: “Who Moderates, How, and Why?: Explaining Trajectories in Authoritarian Successor Party Behavior” • Committee: Deborah Yashar (chair), Grigore Pop-Eleches, Guadalupe Tuñón
	University of Chicago	Chicago, IL
	M.A. with Honors in International Relations	June 2020
	• Concentrations: Comparative Studies in Political Institutions and Identity; Research Methods in the Social Sciences • Thesis: “The Effects of Amnesty on Political Polarization: Connecting Pre-Transition Violations to the Post-Transition Order”
	University of Chicago	Chicago, IL
	B.A. with General Honors	June 2018
	• Majors: Political Science (with Honors); Romance Languages and Literatures (Spanish and French) • Thesis: “Toward a Regional Study of Transitional Justice in Spain: An Investigation of the Connection Between Civil War Violence Patterns and Contemporary Party Support for Transitional Justice”
WORKING PAPERS	• Autocratic Ancestry, Democratic Dilemmas: Tracing Anti-Democratic Behavior in Authoritarian Successor Parties (Job Market Paper) • From Control to Competition: Regime Successors and Coalitions after Pinochet • From Rebels to Parties: Exploring the Legacies of Rebel Governance on Rebel Successor Party Organization (with Manasi Bose, Princeton University) • Why do Authoritarian Successor Parties Succeed?: How Francoist Legacies in the Spanish Catholic Church Boosted Regime Successor Party Performance (with Guadalupe Tuñón and Miguel Alquezar-Yus)
CONFERENCES	• 2025: American Political Science Association (accepted, unable to attend) • 2024: American Political Science Association; Midwest Political Science Association • 2023: Midwest Political Science Association; Red para el Estudio de la Economía Política de América Latina Dissertation Workshop (Quito) • 2019: International Studies Association

TEACHING & ADVISING	Instructor of Record Princeton Writing Program	Fall 2026
	• WRI 197: Making Memory (First-Year Writing Seminar); Quin Morton Teaching Fellow
	Research Mentor Mellon Mays Undergraduate Fellowship	Summer 2026
	• Advised rising-junior fellow on the design of an independent research project
	Assistant Instructor Princeton Politics Department	Fall 2024
	• Introduction to Comparative Politics (POL 230), for Professor Andreas Wiedemann
	Head Preceptor/Assistant Instructor Princeton Politics Department	Fall 2023
	• Conducting Independent Research in Political Science (POL 300), for Professor Markus Prior
	• Accompanying seminar: Developing Democracies , Professor Rocío Titiunik
	Head Preceptor/Assistant Instructor Princeton Politics Department	Fall 2022
	• Junior Independent Work Plenary Session (POL 981), for Professor Markus Prior
	• Accompanying seminar: Representation and Inequality in Democracies , Professor Rafaela Dancygier
RESEARCH EXPERIENCE	Research Assistant Princeton University	2021
	• Compiled dataset on citizenship provisions in South and Central American constitutions (with Deborah Yashar)
	Research Assistant University of Chicago	2017–2020
	• Coded archival sources in Spanish and French to build a large- n dataset of transitional justice measures
FIELD RESEARCH	• Santiago, Chile — Summer 2022, Summer 2023, Spring 2024
	• Madrid and Salamanca, Spain — Summer 2017
PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE	Editorial Assistant World Politics Journal	2023–2026
	• Screened incoming manuscripts and recommended reviewers in the journal’s initial review process
	Design and Production Assistant University of Chicago Press	2016–2019

AWARDS & FELLOWSHIPS	• Quin Morton Teaching Fellowship, Princeton Writing Program, 2026–2027 • Graduate Fellowship, Princeton Program in Latin American Studies, 2025–2026 • Multi-Center Graduate Student Dissertation Grant, Bobst Center for Peace and Justice, 2024 ($14,100 for dataset compilation and digitization of field data collected in Chile) • Graduate Dissertation Grant, Bobst Center for Peace and Justice, 2024 ($5,000 for fieldwork in Santiago, Chile) • Research Grant, Princeton Program in Latin American Studies, 2023 ($1,900 for fieldwork in Santiago, Chile) • Research Grant, Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies, 2023 ($1,900 for fieldwork in Santiago, Chile) • Research Grant, Bobst Center for Peace and Justice, 2022 ($2,000 for fieldwork in Santiago, Chile) • Social Sciences Scholarship, University of Chicago Committee on International Relations, 2019–2020 (full tuition) • Summer International Travel Grant, University of Chicago, 2017 (for archival research in Spain)
SERVICE	• Panel Co-Organizer, Architectures of Control: Dialogues Between Autocracy and Colonialism in Historical Perspective, American Political Science Association, 2025 • Coordinator, Latin American Politics Workshop, Princeton University, 2023–2024 • Graduate Student Committee Representative, Department of Politics, Princeton University, 2021–2022
LANGUAGES & SKILLS	Languages: English and Finnish (native); Spanish and French (fluent); Archival and interview research conducted in Spanish. Programming: Python, R, Stata, $\LaTeX$
REFERENCES	Deborah Yashar Princeton University Grigore Pop-Eleches Princeton University Guadalupe Tuñón Princeton University	dyashar@princeton.edu gpop@princeton.edu tunon@princeton.edu